

Videotaping to record house patterns

The village will be videotaped by the village planning commission, to furnish records for the future, it was decided by the planning commission Monday night.

Douglas A. Dickson said he wishes to borrow the equipment to do one street to determine how long it will take, so the commission will know approximately how much it will spend.

The equipment can be rented for $20 a day plus the cost of the operation.

Councilman Roy Barber was highly in favor of the idea. So were Mrs. Charles E. Pritchard and H. Les Welker. They said it will be more economical than a physical survey.

The commission discussed the installation of a gasoline tank at Fortner and Woodland, a residential area. The zoning ordinance does not cover such an item, so the commission will turn it over to the council for action.

An antique shop has opened in a home in Sandusky street, which is zoned residential. The zoning inspector, Jack Lauer, will be asked to discuss it with the proprietors.

The conversion of the former Sohio station by Councilman G. Thomas Moore into an automotive parts store is still being studied. It also is located in a residential zone.

Robert Brancheau, representative of Lester H. Poggenmeyer, P. E., Inc., discussed federal grant money with the commission.

He urged the members to please see page 4

Credibility

The credibility of the village council has been deeply shaken by the events of last month.

The fact of ineligibility of a councilman was discovered by a candidate for village council, who obtained a list of registered voters at Norwalk and did not find Mr. Predieri's name on it. The conclusion was a valid one: no registration as a voter, no service as a councilman.

Only a handful of councilmen attended the meeting on July 26 when the opinion of the solicitor was read and the mayor took action to vacate Predieri's seat.

His preceptor, Mr. Taulbee, who engineered his appointment in the first place, was quick to solicit an expression of opinion from the other two councilmen, Barber and Hebble, that they will support Predieri's appointment once he qualifies by registration to vote.

It is to their credit that they did not speak. And if they had, other than to say, "No, thank you", it would have been to their discredit.

Because it is certainly not decent, nor ethical, nor moral, nor fair to the citizens of Plymouth to appoint one among them who, despite the fact he did so in ignorance of the law, and partly because of the shortcomings of others, served illegally, and therefore improperly, immorally, unethically and indecently, in public office for nearly two years.

Sins against the public morality ought not to be so easily rectified by such a simple gesture as going to the board of elections and signing a statement. He who accepts appointment or election to public office warrants that he understands the requirements of his office, that he is qualified to serve in that office, and that he knows of no impediment to his service, such as that he is under contract with the village. And when he takes his oath of office, he swears that he has no intent to evade the provisions of the Ohio Constitution, which he promises to uphold and defend, nor the ordinances and resolutions of the village, which he promises to enforce without fear or favor and equally to everybody.

The oath submitted by Mr. Predieri in August of 1981 was deficient in this respect, at least.

He is a fine man. His burdens are manifold. It is too bad that this should have occurred. But it did occur, and he is to blame, and he must suffer for it.

Surely the council can find another to serve the remainder of his term, which expires Dec. 31. If the council wishes a listing of qualified people who are willing to serve, it need only ask.

Mayor, McKenzie win U.S. honors

Two Plymouth men are among selections for "Outstanding Young Men of America."

Those were selected from nominations received from senators, congressmen, governors, mayors, state legislators, university and college presidents and deans as well as various civic groups, including the United States Jaycees, which also endorses the Outstanding Young Men of America program.

Mayor fines Osborne $50

One case was transferred to Shelby Municipal court and four cases continued by Mayor Dean A. Cline July 26.

A sixth case, held over from two previous hearings, was dealt with by plea bargaining. Charge of resisting arrest against Forrest Osborne was reduced to orderly conduct, to which he pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

Tina F. Clemons, Willard, accused of permitting an unlicensed driver to operate her car, will be heard in Shelby Municipal court.

Trailer in court destroyed by fire

A trailer in Happy Hollow court was destroyed Saturday at 3:10 a.m.

Douglas Traxler was not at home. Apparently the fire started earlier and most of the trailer was destroyed.

Traxler is a truck driver. The cause is undetermined. Firemen also answered a call Sunday evening to route 61 and Shoup road to wash down the road after an automobile collision.

Shiloh limits storm drains

Storm sewers that run into sanitary conduits were banned in Shiloh by its village council July 27.

An emergency ordinance states joint use of sewer lines by sanitary and storm disposal is contrary to regulations of the EPA.

Householders will be required to connect with existing or planned sanitary and storm sewer lines at their expense.

The ordinance enables the village to perform tests to insure compliance.

Councilman Delmar Nesbitt asked the council what will be done about tiling at the end of Church street.

He was told by Mayor Francis Gowitzka nothing has been done because there is no way to determine who owns the tile into which the drainage would connect.

He was told by village health department will take action, but not before Aug. 4, on the unsightly situation at West Main and Walnut streets.

How poor is Plymouth?

If 51% is below U.S. minimum, grants will come

The magic number is 51 per cent.

If a survey of village residents proves that 51 per cent is living on incomes below the minimum set by the federal government, the village is in a good position to apply for a federal block grant.

Emil A. Diener, a representative of Lester H. Poggenmeyer, P.

E., Inc., who has been retained by village council to help the village apply for a grant, spoke at a public hearing Monday night about grants.

The main purpose of such grants is to create employment, he said. He used the example of the installation of a water line, which would take fewer workers than road repair.

He pointed out, however, that if a water line such as Plymouth Locomotive Works Inc. wants, it would create jobs since it would result in an expansion of the industry.

Villager held on pot charge

A 30-year-old Plymouth man is accused of drunken driving and making excessive noise with a vehicle in addition to possession of marijuana in Willard mayor's court.

Gary McCoy was arrested July 24 in Woodbine street there.

Richard A. Capelle, Plymouth, was convicted in Norwalk Municipal court of domestic violence and fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail. Jail sentence and $50 of the fine was suspended.

David Swartz caught a Plymouth man in his bedroom in Bowman Street road, subdued him and held him, with the help of his wife, until sheriff's deputies could arrive.

The man was taken under handcuffs to the Richland county jail.

Swartz said there was damage to the front door of his home, which apparently was forced by the intruder.

Swartz said he awoke to find the intruder standing near his bed.

He lunged at him and held him until deputies arrived.

Gasparacs threaten law suit

A threat of legal action against a Plymouth policeman was laid July 27 after her son was arrested by him during a scuffle in the Public Square earlier.

Mrs. Ruth Gasparac, Rome, Greenview road, Shiloh, alleges her son, Randy, 23, was beaten by patrolman Ronald G. Croxford after he arrested young Gasparac on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Two others were also arrested. These are Mark Oney, 22, 69 West Main street, Shiloh, and Dewayne G. Deakins, 22, 39 High street, Shiloh.

The three are accused of disorderly conduct in Bob's Cafe, whence Croxford was called to quell a disturbance.

Croxford's report says he removed Gasparac with some force because Gasparac objected to removal and handcuffs were applied.

Later Gasparac was taken to the Shelby lockup.

His mother asserts the family was not notified of Randy Gasparac's detention until between 5 and 6 a.m. He was released at 6:40 a.m. A relative posted bond for him.

Mrs. Gasparac claims her son's face was bleeding when he was taken to the Plymouth police station. She says police sought to have young Gasparac wash the blood from his face, but he refused. He demanded hospital treatment. She says sutures were required to close wounds on her son's head.

Oney was charged also with resisting arrest. A Richland county sheriff's deputy took him to the Shelby lockup. His report says Oney first agreed to go to the Plymouth police station then threw chairs and spat profane language. He was released on his own recognizance.

Patrolman Croxford was himself injured during the melee and is under treatment.

A 20-year-old Baseline road man was arrested Sunday at 1:30 a.m. by Capt. Frank Hodge on charges of drunken driving, public intoxication and possession of a concealed weapon.

His companion was arrested for public intoxication. Leslie have contributed in memory of Helen Akers and Mrs. Sella Guadagnino to the Plymouth Branch Library.

Hodge says a warrant will issue this week in the case of vandalism of the U. S. Post Office at 17 Plymouth street, where a window was broken and entry gained to an anteroom at the east side of the structure. Items mounted on the wall were torn from it.

Hodge also expects to issue a warrant in the vandalism of Plymouth High school the night of July 27-28.

Paint of several colors was sprayed on the east, west and north sides of the building, some of it in obscenities, and the victory bell mounted in front of the school was daubed with paint.

No decision yet on revenue sharing

Nothing concrete was decided at the public hearing Monday night concerning the 1984 Federal Revenue Sharing funds.

John Fazzini, clerk-treasurer, estimates the village will receive about $15,000, although the money has not so far been appropriated by Congress.

This year's money, about $15,000, has been used for street improvements.

It was suggested that next year sidewalks be redone, but the village has its own program. Labor will be furnished if the property owner pays for the materials.

The federal money can only be used for capital improvements and most likely will go to streets again.

How poor is Plymouth?

Diener also said that low income housing can be rehabilitated, such as new roofs and insulation, with grant money.

He was asked by Luella Vandervort if such funds could be used to insulate the fire station, which is costing taxpayers money for high heating bills. He answered that municipally owned structures are not included.

There are three programs under which applications can be made.

Rehousing rehabilitation and the jobs bill are the most likely for the village, Diener said, rather than economic development, which would be the hardest to justify. It would be necessary for an industry to put in writing what its expansion and improvement would do toward creating additional jobs.

He also said that obtaining a grant is highly competitive, since every other municipality in the state is going after one.

If the council takes the housing rehabilitation, then 25 per cent of the funds can be used for improvement of water lines, which is what the council has been aiming for.

Only two residents, William Fazio and William Ross, were present for the hearing, along with the council and planning commission members.

The next hearing will be Aug. 15 at 7 p.m. in the village hall.

By then, there will be concrete plans for what the village will apply for. The grant money can total $350,000 maximum.

Five hurt in collision

A 20-year-old Plymouth woman and her three passengers and a passenger in a second car were injured Sunday at about 6 p.m. in a two car collision on Route 61 at the S-curve.

Driver of the second car was Joseph Davis, 72, Shelby.

His passenger, Pearl Schreck, 72, Shelby, was taken to Shelby Memorial hospital and was admitted. He was treated and released.

Miss Metcalfe's passengers were her sister, Mrs. Benjamin Montgomery, 27, Benjamin, two, who was uninjured, and Vicki Metcalfe, seven, who was treated at Shelby and then taken to Mansfield General hospital.

Miss Metcalfe was southbound.

She was summoned for speed in excess of road conditions.

Hall hallmark of Ashland nine vying at Toledo

A Plymouth boy plays on an Ashland baseball team that's competing in Toledo this week for the right to enter the American Amateur Baseball Congress tourney at Knoxville, Tenn., in the 13-15 age bracket.

He is Steve Hall, mostly a pitcher but useful elsewhere, who plays for McNeal's Johnny Appleseed Trail Blazers.

The Blazers were 21-and-6 going into the playoff game with the Columbus Comets, seeking the championship of the Central Ohio Amateur Baseball federation Frank Howard league.

The Comets are a veteran team. This is their 26th year of competition.

Hall gave up only one earned run in 30 innings, an ERA of .30. He was undefeated with six wins against outfits with a combined record of 80-and-14.

But he got arm soreness during the tourney at Northfield and was forced to give way to Ron Hurst, Savanah.

But Hall was active with the hot, How active? Like George Brett, but with no pine tar. He whacked a homer with the sacks loaded in the seventh inning to win one game and clouted a triple with the bases jammed in another to win another. His season's average is .406.

Hall was a co-captain of the McNeal team, which is coached by Don McNeal, whose son, Doug, hit .607 for the season. The McNeals live in Mansfield. Hall's father, Dave, is an assistant coach.

He Felt Better, So He Didn't Take All His Medicine. Then He Felt Worse.

It's a familiar story. He started taking the antibiotic the doctor prescribed and within a day or two most of his symptoms were gone. He felt so much better that he decided not to finish the bottle.

"What's the point of taking it all?" he asked himself. "I'm over the worst. Besides, I don't like taking medicine all that much."

But the symptoms came back. With a vengeance.

Antibiotic medications include directions to take the medication until it is used up. Otherwise, the bacteria or other organisms that are causing the problem may not be completely eliminated. And that can mean trouble.

So, when you get any prescription, be sure you know—

- The name of the drug
- Its purpose — what conditions does it treat?
- How and when to take the drug — and when to stop taking it
- What food, drinks and other drugs to avoid while taking it
- What side effects may result — are they serious, short-term, long-term, etc.?

If you have any questions about your prescription, ask your doctor or pharmacist.

What's black & white and read all over?

Everyone knows that—a newspaper. But did you know that no other medium can come close to newspapers, in terms of the depth of information provided to you, or in the number of people reached (3 times as many people will read a newspaper today as will watch a network news broadcast), or in terms of advertising placed (Newspapers place more advertising than T.V., radio and magazines combined)?

Moreover, a newspaper gives you the freedom to decide what you want to read or reread, whenever you like, and almost wherever you go.

As timely as this morning's events, and as timeless as the words of Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson, the newspaper is a friend and servant to all. And it's even more vital to your life today than ever before.

Get ahead in your reading—read the newspaper.
