

Madison Romps to 31-6 Victory

Rams Take To Air To Blast Bellville

By BILL FOX

BELLVILLE — Mansfield Madison added a potent aerial attack to its usual strong running game in romping to a 31-6 football victory over a spirited Bellville 11 before 1,500 Dads' night fans here last night.

The win was the third of the season against four losses for the Rams. Bellville dropped its third contest in seven outings. The Jays have scored three triumphs and have a tie.

Three Madison passers completed six of 12 attempts for two touchdowns and 204 yards. The Hilltop ground attack accounted for three scores and ripped off 187 yards. The Rams failed a single touch-down in the first period and cracked up two in each the second and fourth periods.

The Madison 11 began its first scoring thrust midway in the initial quarter after a Bellville drive had been halted on the Ram 20 yard line. It took 12 plays for the visitors to cross into pay dirt, the running and passing of Ed Chelski leading the way.

The "Battering Ram" started the push by chugging 12 yards to the 32. Following a five-yard stab by John Papcum, Chelski made a first down on the 44 in three charges. Chelski and Papcum blasted to the Bellville 39 and then the Hilltoppers' 190-pound fullback shot a 34-yard pass to Ed Marty Keipp on the five. Papcum bowled into the end zone from the two after Chelski had driven to that point. A short pass from Chelski to Newlon resulted in the Rams' second tally at the outset of the second period. With the ball on the Jays' 33, Newlon took the throw on the 45 and raced the remaining distance. Chelski made the only extra point of the night after that TD, booting it from placement.

End Dick Brokaw returned the ensuing kickoff 58 yards to the Madison 22-yard line to set up the Blue Jays' tally. Jim Eagleston, hard running halfback, cracked over from the one after he, Dave Turner, and Bob Leedy had carried the ball that far.

Halfback Grant Milliron handed the Hilltoppers a 19-6 halftime lead when he rocketed through the line for 43 yards on a naked reverse several minutes later.

After a scoreless third session, Madison counted again early in the final canto when Papcum bulled two yards. The 175-pounder set the stage for his short thrust by completing a 24-yard aerial to Newlon from the 25 yard marker.

Don Wilson, who played a great deal of the last half in place of Chelski, engineered the final TD. After Milliron intercepted a pass on the Jay 10, Wilson picked up two through the line and then pitched to Milliron on the 25. Papcum added three yards before Wilson heaved a long pass to Keipp on the Bellville 28. A Papcum pass was incomplete. Wilson then took a lateral and hurled to Keipp on the five. All alone, the stellar Hilltop flanker, jogged into the end zone.

Bellville put up a stubborn resistance, but was simply overpowered by the Madison unit. The smaller Jays couldn't cope with the brutal charges of Chelski, and the running of Papcum and Milliron. When stymied on the ground, the Rams took to the air and it so happened that their Air Arm was in its best form of the season.

The Jays featured a number of hard driving backs. In Jim Eagleston, Bob Leedy, Dave Turner, and Bob Hamilton. But their pass attack was rather inept. The home club connected on only one of 12 tries and had six intercepted.

Phil Rizzuto Named Most Valuable Player In AL

By EARL WRIGHT

NEW YORK—(AP)—Shortstop Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees, one of the game's most underpublicized stars, today was named the American league's most valuable player for 1934 in the annual poll conducted by the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Rizzuto has performed in the publicity shadows cast by such Yankees as Joe DiMaggio and Tommy Henrich since 1941, but his 1949 play was so impressive that he barely was beaten by Ted Williams of the Red Sox in the MVP poll. This year he ran away with the award, receiving 284 out of a possible 322 points.

His nearest rival, young Billy Goodman of the Red Sox, polled 180 points.

The 32-year-old Rizzuto, the smallest and one of the quickest players in the league, won the award with the finest season of the seven he has spent with New York. He batted .324, got 200 hits and drove in 68 runs. His fielding, which contributed so many victories, was present in each of the Yankees' 155 games as they drove to the AL pennant.

Rizzuto was the number one choice of 16 of the 23 writers who vote. The system of balloting awarded 14 points for each first place vote, nine for each second place vote, eight for each third and so on down to one point for 10th place.

Goodman, the infielder-outfielder who led the league in batting with a .354 average, got four first place votes. Rizzuto's teammate, Catcher Yogi Berra, was the only other player to draw any first place votes.

George Kell, the Detroit third baseman who was a runner-up to Goodman for the AL batting title.

Rickey Quits As Big Boss Of Brooklyn 9

BROOKLYN — (AP)—Which way Branch Rickey? That's the question puzzling the baseball world today now that the bushy-browed executive definitely is through in Brooklyn.

Pittsburgh had seemed like the best bet, but last night Rickey in Columbus, O., denied reports he would become general manager of the Pirates. And in Pittsburgh Tom Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the Pirates, declared "I'm sure no deal has been planned between Rickey and Galbreath because I would know about it if it had." Johnson referred to John Galbreath, owner of the Pirates.

In addition Johnson said "I know definitely that Hamey (Roy Hamey, Pittsburgh general manager) is not going to leave the Pirates no matter what Rickey does."

When Rickey announced his resignation as president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday he said he planned to see Galbreath, an old friend, "within a few days."

Galbreath was due in New York yesterday but changed plans. Perhaps they will meet over the week end because Rickey was to attend a board of trustees meeting at Ohio Wesleyan in Delaware, O. today. After that he will attend a baseball meeting in Cincinnati Tuesday.

One thing is sure, Rickey does not want to retire.

Of the 69 coaches listed on the varsity football staffs of Big Ten schools, 37 are alumni of the institution at which they coach.

Batterin' Ram Makes Big Bid For All-Ohio

By ED ACKLEY

Big Ed Chelski continued his bid for All-State gridiron recognition last night when he piled up 110 yards from scrimmage in 18 carries and passed to Ken Newlon for a touchdown. The "Battering Ram" was a constant threat to the Bellville eleven as he sliced off huge chunks of yardage on every play he carried. They stopped him once for a three-yard loss. Chelski has 761 in seven games.

Approximately 500 Madison followers withstood the chilly climate last night at Bellville to cheer the Green and White grid-ders.

The spectators witnessed an impressive "Dad's Day" ceremony before the game. The Bellville 33-piece band formed an aisle down the middle of the field and each player, accompanied by his dad, marched through the aisle-way and was announced over the public address system. The granddaddies escorted their dads to special seats on the side lines.

The Blue-Jay aerial attack didn't materialize as Jake Walker tossed 11 passes before completing one. This lone completion came with four minutes left in the contest. On the ground, Bellville's leading runner was a halfback Jim Eagleston, who gained 71 yards via the grass route.

That trip back to Mansfield was a slow one for more than 30 cars. A large tractor-trailer, laboring on the hills and curves of Route 13, caused the cars to line up in back of the vehicle for a slow trek.

Bellville's snappy high school band supplied the half-time entertainment for the near-frozen fans. Clad in bright blue uniforms with white spats, the aggregation presented a colorful spectacle.
