Flyers Win On Last Gasp TD's

By DAN HOPWOOD
 Monroeville football coach Bill Henrie favors shorter games now — about 12 seconds shorter.

His Eagles lost Saturday night to St. Paul's 14-0 as the Flyers played a dangerous game with the clock, scoring with only 11 seconds left in the first half and again with only one second to go in the game.

"Twelve seconds made the difference in this game," Henrie said afterwards.

St. Paul's did not show the "Flyer Power" they had in their two previous games, both shutouts, but their defense held well enough to keep Monroeville out of the end zone.

Flyer coach Mike Gottfried was disappointed with his team's performance. "It stunk," he said.

"They completely bottled us up." He added, "In plain and simple words, I'm sick."

The reason he's sick is probably a tough week ahead of him, preparing for the game with Edison which may determine the Firelands Conference championship. Both Edison and St. Paul's are unbeaten and neither has given up a point.

With a little luck Monroeville might have had a scoreless tie. The Flyer's first score came on a pass from quarterback Chris Amato to halfback Dave Wasiniak.

The pass was off its mark but a Monroeville defensive man, Jeff Houghawout, deflected it into Wasiniak's hands and the latter stepped into the end zone.

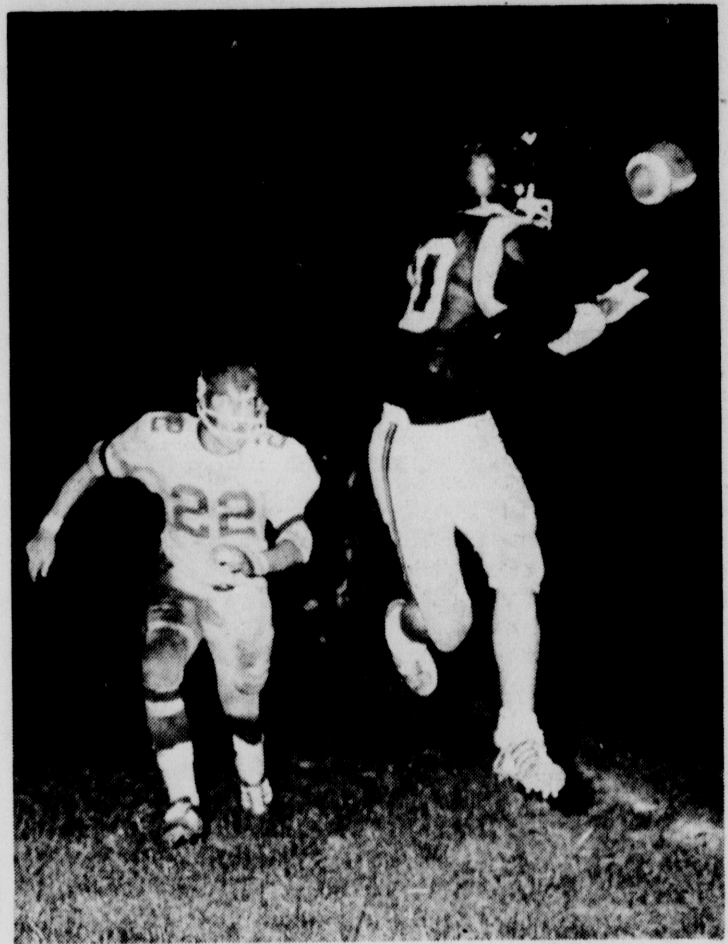

In the final period St. Paul's had possession of the ball in the closing seconds of the game and would have been content to run the clock out.

But a Monroeville defender called time with one second left to give the Flyers another shot at the goal line from the two.

Halfback Steve Missler obliged and carried the ball in.

Neither team could muster a first down until midway through the first period, when Monroeville's Denny Smith carried to his own 32. Four plays later the Eagles had to give up the ball.

The second period was more lively. St. Paul's threatened with the first sustained drive of the game.

EAGLE GAINER — This fourth quarter pass sustained a Monroeville drive near midfield Saturday night in the game against St. Paul's. Coming up fast to make the tackle on the unidentified Eagle pass catcher is Flyer Dave Heyman.

They took over on downs at their own 10 and drove to Monroeville's 11 before a bad lateral by Dave Wasiniak cost them the football.

St. Paul's got the ball back on the Monroeville 45 when the Eagles failed to get their offense going.

Amato, who didn't start because he has been nursing a bad ankle, alternated with Dave Wasiniak at quarterback during the second period. They drove the team to the 7-yard-line before Amato hit his understudy for the score.

Steve Missler ran for the two-point conversion.

St. Paul's knocked on the door again in the third quarter and had a first down on the Monroeville 10. But the Eagles threw St. Paul's for three straight losses and after an Amato pass was

Vanderpool 'Throws' Riders 33-0

BERLIN HEIGHTS — Mark Vanderpool picked Western Reserve's defense apart and threw for four touchdowns Saturday as Edison's Charges routed the Roughriders 33-0 in Berlin Heights.

Vanderpool hit on nine of 16 passes for 263 yards and added 55 on the ground. He threw passes of 21 and 64 yards to end Terry Van Offeren, for 68 yards to Brian Czapliski and to back Scott Ross for 25.

Ross scored from the three in the final quarter for Edison's only other touchdown.

While Western Reserve couldn't stop Vanderpool and company, Edison's defense practically stopped any offensive effort by the Roughriders.

Failing to give up a first down in the first half, Edison allowed only 76 yards total in the game.

Western Reserve did not enter Charger territory the first half. But they came back in the second half looking as if they had solved their problems in the locker room.

Putting together their longest drive of the game, the Riders rolled 44 yards in 14 plays and were within Edison's ten-yard-line before the Charger defense held.

Edison scored late in the first period with a 52-yard drive capped by Vanderpool's 21-yard pass to Van Offeren. Vanderpool added the extra point with a kick that split the uprights.

With a minute and a half left in the second quarter, Western Reserve was forced to punt and Edison took over their own 36. Vanderpool wasted no time and on the first play hit Van Offeren again for a scoring pass.

To start the second half, Edison drove 76 yards in three plays with Czapliski catching a Vanderpool bomb for 68 yards.

In the last period, Edison took over on their own 25 after a Western Reserve drive had stalled. Vanderpool ran 20 yards, Ross took a pitchout and ran for 37 and back Ron Wynn added another 15. Three plays later Vanderpool hit Ross for a 25-yard touchdown. Czapliski, kicking soccer-style, added the point after.

Edison kicked off and the Roughriders returned to their own 21. But Mark Gliatta intercepted a Jim Kern pass and returned it to within three yards of a touchdown.

After Bruce Wright and Wynn each failed to make it across, Ross drove for the final three yards.

Edison now has won all three of its games and has yet to allow an opponent across its goal. Western Reserve now stands at 1-2.

Tovar: One Man Team

(UPI) — Cesar Tovar has done William R. Walsh and Bert Campaneris one better.

Walsh was the first major leaguer to play all nine positions in a full season. Campaneris was the first to do it in a single game and Tovar is the only player to do it in a winning cause.

The slick-fielding Venezuelan started Sunday's 2-1 Minnesota victory over Oakland on the pitcher's mound. He struck out Reggie Jackson, walked Danny Cater and balked when he took a boulder stretch to hold Cater on first as he didn't allow a ball out of the infield.

Tovar then switched to the catcher's position and moved his way around the infield on an inning-by-inning basis.

He pulled off a fielding gem in the third at first base, throwing out Jackson from his knees and made a perfect throw from center in the eight to stop Campaneris from taking third on a sacrifice. He made a total of six put outs and one assist.

Walsh had played all nine positions over a 154-game schedule for the 1911 Philadelphia Athletics. Campaneris turned the trick for Kansas City in a 1965 contest with California which the A's dropped in 13 innings.

Tovar, voted by his teammates the Twins' most valuable player last year, also started Minnesota's scoring in the third when he singled, stole second and scored on Bob Allison's triple. Rookie Tom Hall, 2-1, got the win with relief help from Al Worthington.

Nite Life Wins 19-0

Only two weekend games in city Slo-Pitch were played before rains postponed the rest of the schedule.

Nite Life held sway over Dauch Concrete, 19-0, and Huron County Bank defeated Greenwich Merchants 10-4.

Dauch had only three hits

— all singles — against the "A" division champions, but outdid itself in the error category, with eight. A 3-run homer by Tom Fries in the first inning sparked Nite Life.

Despite a fifth inning home run by Joe Weltin to tie the score at three each, the Merchants had little chance of coming back after a five run rally by Huron County in the sixth.

Bob Osborn signaled the go-ahead in the sixth with a grand slam homerun.

Browns' Blocking Fails

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Browns, who paid so much attention to their passing attack and ground game in practice, might do well to concentrate on their blocking.

Sunday's 28-7 loss to the Dallas Cowboys in the Cotton Bowl showed that Cleveland's inner line was still not a welded unit and that Leroy Kelly was stopped on his famous end-around plays.

The Dallas line, assisted more often than not by blitzing linebackers, held Cleveland to just 87 yards on the ground and just about established residency in the Browns backfield as quarterback Frank Ryan was continually under pressure.

Reserve running back Craig Baynham put the Cowboys out in front with a two-yard score in the second quarter and then a Ryan fumble was picked up by defensive end Willie Townes who waddled 20 yards into the end zone for six more points.
