That was an upset. Then we beat Crestline with no time left to play.

Crestview, which fell to 0-5 in the conference and 0-6 overall, evened the score at six-all on a two-yard run by Brian Osborne with only one second left in the half and moved ahead by two when Steve Williams slammed in for the extra

But the Big Red regained the lead for keeps with 9.39 left in the game when Messer dove three yards for a touchdown, capping a 10-play, 78-yard march that was sparked by a 55-yard pass from quarterback Tom Miller to Marty

"He made a heck of a catch and a heck of a run," McFarren said of McKenzie's reception. "And we drove the ball. We earned our second touchdown.

Said Crestview's Bill Sedar, "The big pass killed us. If we'd of stopped that I think we would have won the game."

Plymouth's final score came on a four-yard run by Jim Cunningham with just 4.29 left to play, seven plays after Combs recovered a fumble by Crestview quarterback Terry Chronister on the Cougars' 25-yard line.

'You can't win games the way we've been playin'." Sedar lamented after Friday's contest. "We give them the ball close to our goal and they take it in. We've done that every game. We just can't seem to get any breaks."

Chronister's fumble tarnished an otherwise splendid performance. The junior quarterback was eight-of-11 in the passing department for 114 vards. He passed 17 yards to end Ron Rider and 18 vards to Doug Fitch to spark the Cougars' scoring drive.

"I can't knock him." Sedar said of Chronister. "He's been throwing the ball real well all year. He's probably the best thrower we've ever had here.'

Plymouth's Miller put the ball in the air only three times but completed all three attempts for 77 yards. The Big Red, sparked by Messer, Charlie Mack and Joe Wallace, rushed for 114 yards Friday. Crestview, which netted minus 26 yards rushing in the second half, had only 55 yards on the ground.

At 6:34 in the second stanza Crestline came up with the right combination for a seven-play, 64 yard drive. It was only the second time this season that the Warriors had allowed a JAC foe to cross the goal line.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Chris Evert plays earlier than usual today, but by mid-afternoon is expected to add the $45,000 first prize of the Inaugural tennis tournament to her winnings for the year.

The $200,000 event's semifinals were postponed Friday night at the Mission Hills Country Club because of rain.

That meant Evert, from Ft. Lauderdale. Fla., winner of the Wimbledon and U.S. Open events and 31 straight matches. had to play England's Virginia Wade in an early morning semifinal match today. In the other semifinal, Françoise Durr of France, who now lives in Phoenix. Ariz., was scheduled against Terry Holladay of La Jolla, Calif., the big surprise of the tournament.

Evert and Wade were slated in center court, with the other two players playing on a side court at the same 8:30 a.m., PDT time, thus avoiding any argument that fatigue could be a factor in the 1 p.m. finals.

The rain probably won't affect our play." Chris commented. "But I've never had to play semifinals and finals on the same day, or semis so early.
