Cougars massacre outmanned Plymouth

By BRAD METEGER

Globe Sports Correspondent
PLYMOUTH — Plymouth law enforcements authorities were still searching for a pack of 'Cougars' which messacred a bend of Vikings at Mary Fate Park late Friday evening. The Cougars have been listed as suspects—for five other previous matilings of area football teams and Friday night was no exception as Crestview devoured Plymouth in a Firelands Conference matchup,

An all points bulletin was called out as the Cougars of Crestview ate up the stripes on the field and blewout the lights on the scoreboard by scoring a barrage of points while Crestview has yet to give up a single point this season.

By United Press International Despite the threat of rain that looms over both the American and National League playoffs today, Atlanta Braves' pitcher Phil Niekro had a sunny outlook on the situation. -

"I hear the weather isn't good in Atlanta," said Niekro, following Friday's rainout in St. Louis against the Cardinals, the second time in three days the NL playoffs were postponed because of rain. "Maybe if we get more rainouts, I'll be able to pitch every game."

The series, in which the Cardinals lead, 1-0, was pushed back to tonight, with Sunday's game switching to Atlanta, at night, where rain is predicted for the weekend.

Rain also is forecast for Milwaukee, where the Brewers will look to even their best-offive series with California, at two games apiece after Friday's 5-3 victory over the Angels.

"I've lived in Milwaukee pretty well all my life, and I've never trusted the weather forecasters," said Brewers' Manager Harvey Kuenn.

Niekro, who pitched 4 1-3 innings in Wednesday's rain shortened game, will start tonight. Niekro has allowed the Cardinals only three runs in 21 innings during the season and blanked them in his short stint Wednesday.

At Milwaukee, Don Sutton allowed eight hits over 7 2-3 innings to cut Milwaukee's deficit in the best of five series

"My slider was great today," said Sutton, who struck out nine, including Bobby Grich and Reggie Jackson three times. "I can't think of a better day this year for my slider. It was my key pitch."

Peter Ladd came on for Sutton with two out and one on in the eighth and finished to earn the save, retiring the four batters he faced.

No AL team has ever won a playoff after losing the first two games.

Cecil Cooper doubled home one run and Gorman Thomas and Don Money added sacrifice flies in a three-run fourth inning that chased loser Geoff Zahn and raised Sutton's career playoff record to 4-1.

Paul Molitor clinched the victory with a two-run homer in the seven.

The Brewers are expected to send Moose Haas against Tommy John today with the game starting at 1 p.m. EDT. The second game is to begin at 8:15 p.m. EDT.

The fourth game, if necessary, will be played in Atlanta Monday afternoon. And if a fifth game is necessary, it would be Tuesday afternoon, the day the World Series originally was scheduled to begin. If the World Series does not begin until Wednesday night, it would mean there would be no travel day for the two teams the following Monday should the Series go more than four passed neither team wanted to Cougars a seven point edge as get caught with the goods as they fumbled the ball away, gave away yards by being penalized, and lost their concentration as plays disintegrated in the backfield. Finally, Crestview caught fire with three minutes remaining in the first period when receiver Mike Williams raced down the sidelines and snared the spiral that was perfectly thrown by quarterback Rod Bernhard for a 66-yard gain that put the Cougars inside Plymouth's ten on the play that broke the game open according to CHS mentor Lee Owens.

On the following play Bernhard rolled left on a keeper and raced nine yards into the endzone to score the first points of the game and Curtis Reed booted the point after giving the CHS never looked back.

Four plays later Crestview got the pigskin back and Reed swiftly plowed his way deep into Big Red territory as the first quarter came to an end. As four seconds and six yards passed away Reed added another Cougar touchdown to his collection along with an extra point to boost the score to 14-0.

Unable to move the ball Plymouth reluctantly gave it back to the Cougars, and again Bernhard connected up with a receiver, Brian Easterling for a 48-yard touchdown pass and naturally Reed converted the point after giving them a 21-0 lead to ice the game.

At the half Crestview led 27-0. Early in the third period Bernhard started things back up by strolling 28 yards for another score and Reed completed the PAT to bury Plymouth with a commanding 34-point margin.

Late in the fourth period Crestview scored again and this score upped the Cougars morale giving the freshmen a chance to prove themselves and they did just that on a 15-yard burst for a score by freshman John Tennis as another Crestview crime stays unsolved on how to score on the Cougar defense.

Crestview had 289 yards on the ground and 166 in the air to just 18 and four, respectively, for Plymouth.

The Cougars fumbled three times regaining all but one and they were penalized eleven times for a hundred and twenty five yards while the Vikings fumbled the ball four times and recovered half of them and they were penalized six times for sixty stripes.

The games' leading rusher was Reed who carried the ball 14 times for 127 yards and the games' leading receiver was Williams with 66 yards. 'We didn't play a good game as we lost our composure, intensity, and confidence, we were just not ready to meet the challenge," commented Plymouth coach Dick Roll.

"Plymouth played a tough and scrappy first quarter, but Williams superb grab changed the game around for us and everything else fell in place," said Owens, "and I am real proud of the team effort that produced another victory.'

Next Saturday the Big Red travels to Norwalk St. Paul in a Firelands Conference game to look for their second win

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON AGING

Is Social Security safe?

By Claude Pepper, Chairman, House Select Committee on Aging

Q. What ever happened to that special commission on Social Security appointed last year? Did it go the way of most such groups — a lot of talk and no action?

A. The 15-member National Commission on Social Security Reform, appointed by President Reagan to study the financial soundness of the Social Security system, is expected to issue a report in November calling for significant changes in the program.

The commission consists of five members appointed by the President, five members appointed by Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker, R-Tenn., and five members appointed by House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass.

Under consideration by the panel are various proposals to shore up the financially troubled Social Security trust funds by either reducing benefits paid by the program or increasing the revenues which flow into the system. Two of the major proposals under consideration which would significantly affect Social Security protection consist of a plan to reduce the general level of benefits (the "replacement rate") by about 10 percent, and a phased-in hike in the age at which beneficiaries are eligible for unreduced benefits. The second scheme would raise the so-called normal age of retirement from 65 to 68 starting in the year 1990.

Not all of the proposals before the commission would scale back Social Security benefit protection, however. Some commission members, including AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland, advocate using general revenues to shore up the system. Former Social Security Commissioner Robert Ball, another member of the commission, would move up the scheduled 1990 payroll tax increase to 1983 and make all Social Security contributions deductible from Federal income tax.

Finally, I, as a member of the commission, have urged that general revenues be used to pay a portion of the cost of Medicare, which I believe would completely ensure the financial soundness of the system.

You may express your views by writing to the National Commission on Social Security Reform, 736 Jackson Place N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503.

Q. I know that the Title V senior jobs program has been in serious jeopardy. My father got a notice that his position may be canceled. What's the status of the program teday?

A. The Title V Senior Community Service Employment Program has been saved from extinction by the House and Senate votes to override the President's veto of the Supplemental Appropriations Bill. The $211 million authorization to continue the Older Americans Act jobs program may have weighed more heavily than any other factor in assuring defeat of the President's action.
