Slovak Lanes Classic underway

The 27th Annual American Slovak Lanes Singles Classic, featuring a purse of more than $30,000, began this weekend and will continue for 9 more weekends in Lorain.

Guaranteed top prizes are $4,500 for the handicap sixgame total, $2,250 for second place and $1,125 for third. In the actual division, it will be $1,500 for top spot, $750 for second and $375 for third.

THE TOURNAMENT, although open to both men and women, features an additional kitty for women for an extra $2 added to the $28 entry fee. The tournament committee will kick in $150, $75, $30 and $20 for the top four women handicap scores and $75, $50 and $25 for the top three actual scores.

Another option, for another $2, is a $100 payoff for the top 15 single games in the tourna-

So, if a bowler gets hot and nails down a handicap and actual win, and rolls a couple high games, he can come away with about $8,000. Not a bad day's work. A wman can get even more with the additional women's special jackpot.

The tourney, which annually attracts about 1,600 bowlers from several states, is the largest of its kind in northern

Turn to the tube for Breeder's Crown

Local and area harness racing fans should be especially thrilled with the televised Breeders Crown series of championship races, which began Friday.

The international races will be held at eight different racetracks throughout North America and will go a long way toward determining horse-ofthe-year honors in the various divisions. Entertainment and Sports Programming Network (ESPN) will be broadcasting the eight one-hour shows to 34 million homes.

The fields include world record holders and the leading money winners of their respective divisions. For instance.,the undefeated Davidia Hanover will clash with world recordholder Conifer and six other 2year-old trotting fillies at Mohawk Raceway near Toronto Oct. 7 while another undefeated 2-year-old, Nihilator, heads the field of freshman pacing colts which will compete at The Meadows, near Pittsburgh on Oct. 12.

The schedule and broadcast times follow: - Mohawk Raceway, Oct. 7, 9 p.m., 2-year-old filly trot. The Meadows, Oct. 12, 9 p.m., 2-year-old colt pace. - Northlands Park. Edmonton. Can., Oct. 14, 6:30 p.m., 3year-old colt pace.

- Maywood Park, 10 p.m., Oct. 19, 2-year-old filly pace. Rosecroft Raceway, Maryland, Oct. 26, 9 p.m., 3-year-old filly trot. - Liberty Bell Park. Philadel-

$weep 7 wagering has started at Roosevelt Raceway in the hope that the big payoffs it will generate will infuse new life in the New York racing scene and counteract to some degree the inroads of state-operated lotteries.

The new wager is an on-track bet only at the present time, not available through New York's off-track betting parlors. According to its supporters, if you would like to corner the $weep, (cover every conceivable combination) you can do it with 2,097,152 combinations. At that (hah-hah) it's still a better bet that the lottery. $weep 7 will be a $2 bet, with the object to pick the winners of seven consecutive races, the fourth through the tenth, on Roosevelt's nightly card. To win the entire pool, a bettor will have to pick all seven winners. If no ticket is purchased selecting all seven winners, 25 per cent of the net pool of that night will be paid to tickets selecting the most winners, with the remaining 75 per cent carried over to the next $weep 7 pool.

Roosevelt's program summarizes four ways to play the $weep 7:

- A straight 7-horse bet for $2. A full wheel, combining all horses in one 8-horse field with one horse in each of the other 6 races, costing $16. Two full wheels, combining all horses in two of the races with one horse in each of the remaining 5, costing $128.

Partial wheels, which are allowed up to a total of 24 horses in all 7 races involving $72 for 36 bets. And from horseplayers like Fritz, Jewels, Big Kran, Stanislous, Gasoline Johnnie, who would think nothing of driving 21/2 hours for some exciting racing action, the $weep 7 vibes were bad...these veteran experts want a return to sanity...a refuge from the crazy numbers game that returns less and less to the bettor and more and more to the state and track.
