We're not like some other clubs. We really need the money, Lacroix said.

Joseph Schwartz forfeited ownership of the team in early March when he was unable to meet a payroll. The players became free agents but agreed to remain with the club after being assured that a new group was being sought to purchase the franchise.

But until that happens, the Mariners will be able to split the $7.500 cash award for making the playoffs as a wild card team.

In the other WHA games Tuesday night. Quebec blasted Edmonton 8-3 and Calgary topped Toronto 6-2.
