i am all alone, i know only the words of my mind, and i feel
only the memories of my past. i sit in a daze, thinking
how great it was
to hear a bird
singing, to see
hills after hills,
to know i was free—so full of life.

i see persons faces—
persons who then i took for granted
but whom now i could hug and love forever.
i have lost all those people.
they just exit in my mind.
i wonder if they still remember me.
probably not, but that doesn't matter.
i remember them.

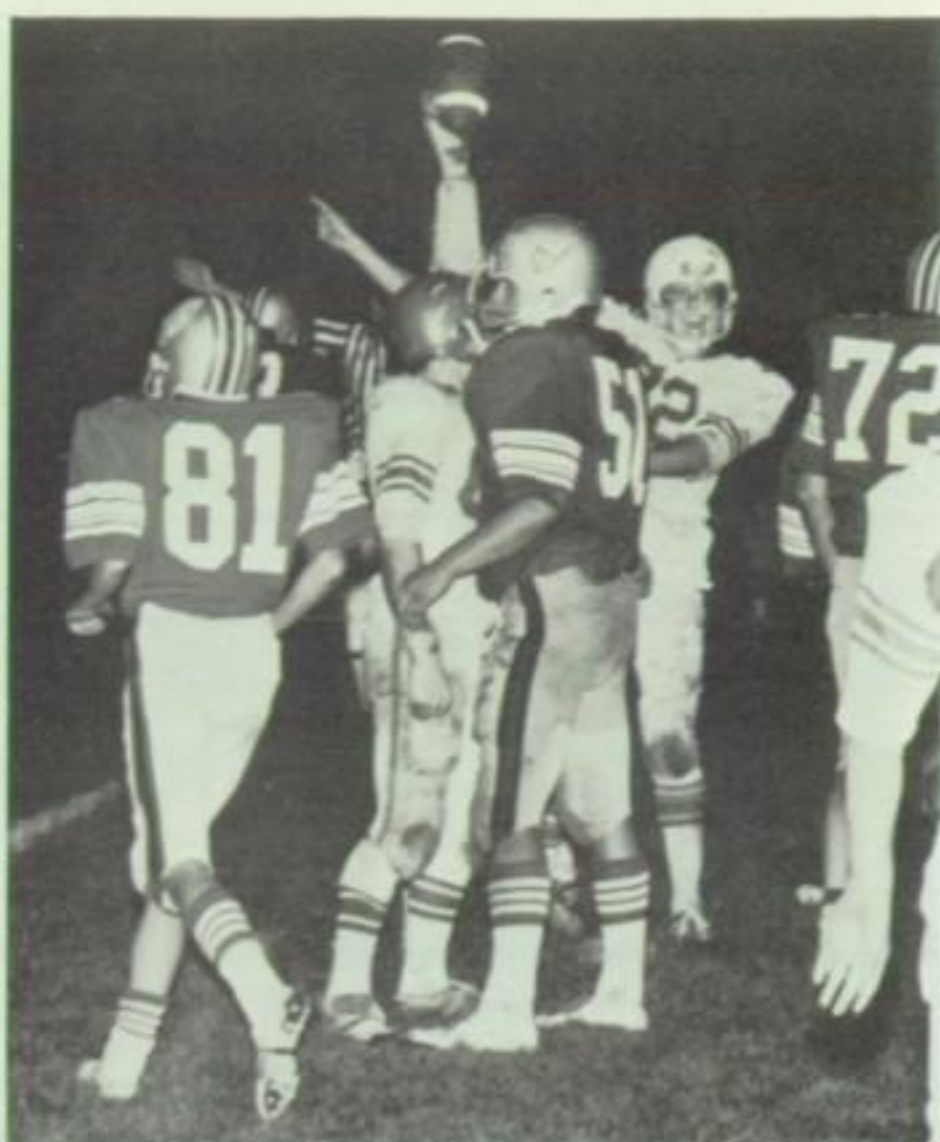

Oh, God, why do i realize too late what i had— just being a part of life— knowing and loving. i remember faces that looked so ordinary, but are the most beautiful faces in my life. i will never return to pick up where i left off. things will never be the same as they were before. all the faces, places, and events are just remembered. i want them back so badly, but nothing will ever be the same as it was before.

Faded photographs, covered now with lines and creases,
 Tickets torn in half, memories and bits and pieces.
 Ribbons from her hair, souvenirs of days together,
 The rings she used to wear, pages from an old love letter.

Traces of love, long ago
 That didn't work out right,
 Traces of love with me here tonight.

I close my eyes and say a prayer
 That in her heart she's mine, a trace of love's still there, somewhere.
 Traces of hope in the night that she'll come back and find
 The traces of tears from my eyes.

School Spirit . . .

The Athletic Association plays a major role at P.H.S. The members work together to raise money which then goes into the athletic fund to purchase uniforms and equipment for both boys' sports and girls'.

With the addition of many new Varsity sports in recent years, the Athletic Association has had to work doubly hard, selling candy bars, sponsoring Alumni Night, and running the concession stand at basketball games. Much credit and thanks are due the members.

GRADUATION:

AN END AND A BEGINNING

Remember that first day of high school? How uncertain you were and a little bit frightened, too?

Remember how the days of attending classes, studying and taking exams seemed endless?

Yet, graduation day is near and soon your high school days will become fond memories.

Graduation day, with all its commencement festivities, marks the end of a very important stage in your life.

Graduation day also marks the beginning of a new phase—higher education, the military or embarking on a career.

We at Donnelley congratulate you on reaching this milestone.

Enjoy the festivities of the day—you've earned them.

Look forward to the challenges ahead of you. The experience you've gained over the past years will help you meet life's challenges with a zest for success.
